

WIFE WHO SHOT SISTER IS FREED

Alleged Intimacy With Mate
of Older Woman Is Cause of Killing

FREEDHOLD, N. J., April 19.—A jury of men Tuesday acquitted Mrs. Hermina Rensselaer, 33, who shot and killed her young sister, Gessie Wesels, on January 15, because of alleged intimacy with her husband in their home at West Long Branch.

The trial began Tuesday morning before Supreme Court Justice Kalisch. The jurors were chosen in three hours and at six o'clock, after deliberating a half hour they returned a verdict. Courtroom spectators applauded the verdict.

PAID OCEAN PASSAGE
Mrs. Rensselaer related on the witness stand that she had sent money to her sister in Germany last August to enable her to come to America, and on her arrival here, had been met by her husband and taken to their home in West Long Branch.

"For five weeks I noticed an apparent attachment between my sister and my husband," she told the jury. "On two occasions I caught my sister kissing my husband. Later he took my sister to New York, saying he had found a position, leaving me in my lonely country home."

"My sister came down the Saturday before Christmas and remained several weeks with me. She admitted living with my husband, and when he came down the last day of my sister's stay, he took my sister back with him."

"I was left alone for two months and could stand it no longer."

TOOK SISTER HOME
She then told of going to a friend in New York the Friday before the murder and telephoning her husband's place of business. They met that evening.

"I asked him where my sister was," she testified. "He said he would meet me the next day and take me to her. We went to an apartment where my husband introduced me to the lady of the house as his wife's sister."

"I upbraided my sister for living there with my husband. I asked why she didn't go to work. She said she wouldn't but would continue to live with Fred."

"I induced my sister to accompany me home on Saturday. From that time my mind was a blank."

The sister was killed the next day.

SUSPECTED SPY OF BURGLARS JAILED

Despite his gray hairs, beard and general dignified appearance Joseph Nelson, alias "Dad" Brady, arrested Tuesday evening by Detectives Edward Butterfield and R. H. Chambers, on the charge of vagrancy, was sentenced to serve five days in jail by Judge D. R. Roberts following the emphatic denial that he had been in Ogden or in trouble of a similar nature before.

His plea failed to make the necessary impression on the court to secure his freedom and before being taken to jail he made one last effort, requesting the judge to sentence him to pay a fine instead of serving time in jail which was refused.

Detectives Butterfield and Chambers told the court that Brady operates by going to the various Knox and Scholastic stores, presumably for the purpose of canvassing but in reality for the purpose of getting into the houses and sifting up their interiors following which they are visited by burglars and sneak thieves.

According to Chief of Detectives Burk, Brady operated a shady rooming house in Salt Lake, an alleged rendezvous for criminals.

According to the police, Brady was refused a license to operate a rooming house in Salt Lake after the authorities had investigated his record.

OGDEN BANK STARTS
REMODELING WORK

The remodeling work that is to give the Ogden State bank 2500 additional feet of floor space has been started and there is to be expended approximately $40,000. A. P. Bigelow, cashier of the bank, said today.

The large storeroom, immediately south of the bank proper, has been heretofore used as a fruit and candy stand and is being utilized for the extension.

The safety boxes of the safety deposit department have been ordered and the contract let for the large door of the vault.

When the extension is completed there will be about 900 square feet for the bookkeeping department which will be above the banking floor proper and on a mezzanine floor, 900 square feet for the trust and savings department and about 700 square feet for the safety deposit lobby.

It is planned to finish the additions in marble and mahogany in keeping with the remainder of the bank furnishings.

The officers of the Ogden State bank are: H. C. Bigelow, president; John M. Browning, vice president; A. P. Bigelow, cashier, and E. L. Van Meter and D. E. Davis, assistant cashiers. The bank's deposits are $5,500,000.
